Art Unit: 1761

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 20-26, drawn to a bi-component fiber, classified in class 428, subclass 373+.
- II. Claims 27-29,34, and 33, drawn to a fiber, classified in class 428, subclass 364.

If group I is elected applicants is required, under 35 U.S. C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for th polyester, cross section, and cross sectional shape for claims 20 and 24.

If group I is elected applicant is required to select a single disclosed species for claims 22,23 and 26.

If Group II is elected applicant is required to elect a single disclosed species for polyester for claims 27 and 28.

- III. Claims 30-32 are, drawn to a process for making a bi-component fiber, classified in class 264, subclass 172.1 +.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions Group I and Group II are related as mutually exclusive species in an intermediate-final product relationship. Distinctness is proven for claims in this relationship if the intermediate product is useful to make other than the final product (MPEP § 806.04(b), 3rd paragraph), and the species are patentably distinct (MPEP § 806.04(h)). In the instant case, the intermediate product is deemed to be useful as a yarn or a tow and the inventions are deemed patentably distinct since there is nothing on this record to show them to be obvious variants. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions anticipated by the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Inventions Group I and Group II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because weight ratio, withdrawal speed, and linear density. The subcombination has separate utility such as Yarn or a tow.

Inventions Group I and Group III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by a materially different process such as providing co-extruding quenching, solidifying, winding, and aging.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Robert Furr on 7/27/04 to request an oral election by Mr Furr did want to listen to the grouping of claims for restriction, thus a written requirement is now made.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Examiner Edwards whose telephone number is 571-272-1521.
